Teach the world

TRAIN WITH THE NUMBER ONE LANGUAGE SCHOOL IN CENTRAL LONDON

Teacher training and development courses for every stage of your teaching career.

Our story began in 1953, with our founders John Haycraft (CBE) and his wife Brita Haycraft, who started a school because they believed in intercultural understanding through language learning. Our founders pioneered the first qualification for teaching English as a foreign language: it is now known as the CELTA and assessed by the University of Cambridge.

We have continued their mission and changed people's lives through language teaching for over 65 years. We have the expertise and passion to help you achieve everything you want to through teaching English.

Travel the world, experience different cultures, succeed in your career – your story starts here.

Why IH London? →

10 REASONS TO
CHOOSE IH LONDON

At IH London, we really believe in the best teaching and always have. We are a charitable trust and our founders created the very first EFL qualification, now known as the CELTA.

1 We are the no. 1 language school in central London, ranked by EL Gazette in 2019, based on British Council inspections.

2 We have always championed the best teaching. International House London was the birthplace of the first qualification for teaching English as a second language 70 years ago in 1953. This then became the CELTA qualification accredited by Cambridge English (part of the University of Cambridge) and is recognised throughout the world.

3 We are the best value school in London (ranked by the industry publication EL Gazette).

4 Training with IH London means you become part of the IH network, which is the largest network of independent schools in the world: over 160 schools, in over 52 countries.

5 Our teaching experts speak at world-famous teaching events such as IATEFL and many of the leading ELT coursebooks have been produced by International House trainers past and present, for example New Cutting Edge and English Unlimited.

6 IH London is at the forefront of innovation and training. We host a Future of Training Conference, where trainers from all over the world speak about new ideas, practices, and methodologies in training.

7 Our experts build bespoke training programmes for schools and organisations across the globe.

8 We train teachers at every stage of their career: from learning to teach to the most advanced practitioners. We offer a range of courses, to suit all schedules, interests and ambitions. This includes full-time intensive study, part-time modular courses and short courses.

9 Our school is located in the beautiful Covent Garden, in central London. Everything London has to offer can be reached from our front door. Our modern air conditioned school has nine floors with a library, café, computer centre, comfortable social spaces, reception, and 53 fully equipped large bright classrooms.

10 International House London is a charitable trust and we reinvest operating surplus to improve your teacher training experience.

No.1 Language school in Central London

"The lessons were dense and rich in information; I liked the way Adrian made us aware of and improved our performance, which for me is an ideal but challenging approach. I'm grateful for the inspiration and encouragement I got from this course. Also the exchange with teachers from all over the world was highly interesting and a real pleasure."

Maria, Austrian,
Participant on Learn with Adrian Underhill

ABOUT ADRIAN UNDERHILL

Adrian is a world-renowned ELT Consultant and Trainer. Adrian is an author and the series editor of the MacMillan Books for Teachers. He is well known for his book Sound Foundations and his inspiring talks on how to understand the phonemic chart. His pronunciation chart was developed into an app for students and teachers and won an industry award. Adrian takes a holistic approach to teaching and teacher training and is a frequent conference speaker.

COURSE OUTLINE

There are two strands to this practical programme:

1. Develop your own pronunciation at the level of sounds, words and connected speech. Learn to feel and sense what you are doing in your mouth so that you can critique and change your pronunciation as much as you wish, and help your learners to do the same.
2. Develop your performance skills through presentation and storytelling, to bring about listener engagement and enjoyment through your use of stress, intonation, voice tone, pause and fluency and body language.

At the same time, you will enjoy a complete workout with the Sound Foundations chart, as well as constant feedback to gain confidence and personalise a range of teaching techniques.

The course culminates with the production of our own poetry festival.

Course days:	Monday - Friday
2023 face-to-face dates:	17 Jul - 21 Jul (12.15 - 16.15)
Cost:	£567

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

The course is suitable for experienced teachers looking for new ideas to approach teaching grammar creatively.

"I learned a lot during the course and the personality of the tutor was motivating....
A demanding course but I will definitely use everything I learned."

Monika, Polish

COURSE OUTLINE

This is both a practical and theoretical course. Much of class time will be spent exploring different approaches to teaching grammar and discussing the strengths and weaknesses of each one.

During the week we will also look at some of the key areas and issues in grammar teaching, such as teacher knowledge about grammar, issues with pedagogic rules, the impact of testing and assessment, the difference between spoken and written grammar, and issues with the traditional separation of grammar and lexis.

Some sessions will be in the form of workshops, where we would like you to work with your fellow teachers to create, evaluate and adapt grammar focused materials so that they better meet the needs of your students.

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

By the end of the course you will have:

- ✓ explored various methods of teaching grammar creatively
- ✓ developed new teaching techniques to teach English grammar in an engaging way
- ✓ increased your confidence in teaching grammar
- ✓ explored the principles underpinning different approaches to grammar teaching
- ✓ developed techniques to assess learners' grammar skills

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

This course is designed for CELTA-qualified teachers who would like further support, developmental suggestions and guidance from an experienced tutor. This course would be particularly useful for teachers who are working in private tutoring and have no access to a staffroom or colleagues; as well as teachers who have not worked much as a teacher since getting the CELTA qualification and therefore lack confidence in applying for teaching roles; or those who trained online and would like classroom experience, or vice versa. The course can also be a springboard to further ELT qualifications: those thinking of doing the level 6 Trinity CertPT or level 7 Cambridge Delta can get feedback on their suitability for these high level courses.

COURSE OUTLINE

Gain bespoke training tailored to your individual requirements and benefit from one-to-one or one-to-two support from an experienced teacher trainer.

This course provides a safe space to experiment with teaching techniques, lesson shapes and styles. We provide the learners, the location/facilities, the materials and the expert tuition. In this purely developmental course, there is no assessment or judgement: the focus is on growth and improvement. Participants can buy a 'package': there is a minimum of one mentoring 'cycle', but you can buy two to five cycles.

One mentoring cycle is 2.5 hours (45 mins needs analysis and planning; 60 minutes lesson; 45 minutes feedback and creating an action plan). These elements can be the same day or spread across different days

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

Take this course to:

- ✓ consolidate and increase confidence in delivering a lesson
- ✓ plan and deliver a lesson with stronger understanding of the principles involved in teaching and lesson design
- ✓ create an action plan for future development in ELT
- ✓ enhance knowledge of lesson approaches and teaching techniques

Practical Teacher with Trinity Cert PT:	£1,113
Materials Development with Trinity Cert PT:	£1,023

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

English language teachers who are qualified, have classroom teaching experience who want to develop their specialist knowledge and skills and gain recognition for their professional development. Trinity Cert PT is a great way to improve your skills and demonstrate your professionalism to an employer.

This is a level 6 qualification, sitting between initial Level 5 teaching certificates (such as the CELTA) and an advanced Level 7 diploma qualification (such as the DELTA). It is suitable for teachers working in schools, university or language schools who teach teens or adults.

This qualification is accredited by Trinity, one of the UK's oldest examination bodies.

COURSE OUTLINE

The Trinity PT course helps working teachers to understand, evaluate and make teaching materials for specific students and context. It is informed by current teaching methodology and is practical and relevant to their daily teaching. Participants evaluate and reflect on the materials in the classroom with their students.

The Trinity Cert preparation course is delivered online and is asynchronous. Trainees are given access to the course at the same time as they start the Practical Teacher, or Materials Development course. Trainees have approximately 12 weeks to complete the online course with four written assignments. There are three tutorials with the tutor either face to face, on Zoom, or by email depending on the time zone. Developmental feedback is given for each assignment during the course.

The CertPT is assessed through a portfolio of work with four written assignments:

- ✓ evaluate a resource
- ✓ adapt a resource
- ✓ create a resource
- ✓ reflect on the use of a resource

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

By the end of this course you will be able to:

- ✓ evaluate, adapt and create teaching/training resources, making suggestions that will help meet the needs of a specified learner/learner group
- ✓ justify and reflect on pedagogical decisions for teaching/training of a specified learner/learner group
- ✓ demonstrate an awareness of formative assessment on a specified learner/learner group
- ✓ use academic referencing

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

This course is for teachers who want to make great lesson materials for their students or to share with other teachers and the wider ELT community. Get ready to be creative.

COURSE OUTLINE

This is a very practical course. A lot of class time will be in the form of workshops where you will work with your fellow teachers to create, evaluate and adapt materials based on the needs of your students, and you will be asked to complete a number of practical activities during the course. Ultimately, we hope that you can use the materials you design in your future lessons and that you will be able to pass on what you have learnt to colleagues where you work.

The course also includes input from your tutors. During the week we will look at some of the key areas and issues in materials development, such as principles underpinning materials design, the role of coursebooks, findings from SLA research, the role of the local syllabus or curriculum, teacher agency and learner motivation. We will also explore how a teacher can move into materials development, from sharing with peers, presenting at conferences to getting your materials published.

We hope that you will use the time between sessions to do further work on materials development tasks that you have started in the workshop sessions. We will bring materials to the sessions for evaluation, but this course will be more practical if you can bring materials from your own teaching context that we can explore. These can be published materials you use or ones you have designed yourself. Wherever possible you will be encouraged to relate ideas discussed in class to the context(s) you teach in.

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

By the end of this course you will be able to:

- ✓ assess and evaluate materials and understand what makes good teaching and learning materials
- ✓ design materials around texts to develop receptive skills
- ✓ design materials for developing productive skills
- ✓ design material for teaching specific language items
- ✓ evaluate the effectiveness of your own materials and adapt them to suit the needs of different learners
- ✓ understand effective materials design and layout

THE DELTA

A Delta sets you apart as a teacher. It shows you are dedicated to both your students' learning and your own. It gives you skills that will help you throughout your career.

The Delta (Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) is the highest level practical teaching qualification for English language teachers.

With a Delta you can step up to more challenging roles with confidence and it is a foundation for senior teachers, teacher trainers and managers.

Delta (or equivalent) is a required qualification to obtain a senior academic management role at a British Council accredited centre in the UK.

3 STEPS

TO YOUR DELTA

The Delta is an advanced blend of theory and practice that will deepen your knowledge and understanding of English language teaching. You will demonstrate your ability to plan, teach and evaluate learning.

It is a level 7 qualification, the same level as a Master's Degree. The Delta requires you to have an advanced level of English: C1+ on the CEFR and have a minimum of 2 years' teaching experience.

You will receive a Cambridge Delta Certificate after successful completion of each module. You need to complete all three modules to receive your full Cambridge Delta Diploma. There is no time limit in which to take the modules and they can be studied in any order.

MODULE 1: UNDERSTANDING LANGUAGE, METHODOLOGY AND RESOURCES FOR TEACHING

This module focuses on extending and developing candidates' knowledge and understanding of teaching and learning English in a range of contexts.

Topics include:

- › Different teaching approaches and methodologies
- › Language systems and learners' linguistic problems
- › Knowledge of resources, materials and reference sources for language learning

Assessment: Written exam

MODULE 2: DEVELOPING PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

This module focuses on developing awareness and expertise in the principles and professional practice of teaching English.

You will research and write essays on English language systems and skills development, and plan and teach lessons based on your research. During the course you are observed and will receive developmental feedback on your teaching and will also observe other teachers.

Topics include:

- › Preparation for teaching
- › Managing and supporting learning
- › Lesson preparation and teaching
- › The language learner and the language learning context
- › Evaluating, selecting and using resources and materials for teaching purposes
- › Observing and evaluating other teachers' lessons

Assessment: Portfolio of coursework (including background essays, observed lessons and a professional development assignment)

MODULE 3: EXTENDING PRACTICE AND ELT SPECIALISM

This module focuses on needs analysis, syllabus design, course planning and assessment. You will carry out an independent investigation, leading to the design of a course programme related to a specialism.

Some of the specialisms include:

- › Teaching exam classes
- › Business English
- › Teaching young learners
- › English for Specific Purposes
- › Teaching one-to-one

Assessment: Written assignment

ALTERNATIVE OR ADDITIONAL MODULE 3: ELT MANAGEMENT

Module 3 ELT Management can only be booked as part of the Blended 123 package or taken as a single Delta module. You can choose to take this as an additional module even if you have completed your Delta.

This module focuses on situation analysis, planning and implementing change. You will carry out an independent situation analysis, leading to the design of a change proposal in one of the following specialisms:

- › Academic management
- › Human resource management
- › Customer service
- › Marketing

To successfully complete this module, you will need to have access to management data from a relevant language teaching organisation.

Assessment: Written assignment

This was an absolutely fascinating course. I learnt so much and felt privileged to be trained by such knowledgeable and experienced teachers. Their sessions were brilliant as was their feedback and guidance. Apart from all this, the course reminded me and reaffirmed my love of teaching.

CHOOSE

YOUR DELTA

We offer a variety of different ways for you to study for the Delta, including Distance Delta and face-to-face options, so you can study to suit your schedule.

Delta modules can be booked together or individually. Booking together in a package offers the best value for you. With any of our Delta packages, we help you prepare for your course with a pre-course task and targeted reading so that you make the most of your study time.

Ih London face to face training is held at the school in Covent Garden. This is focussed, intensive training with the expert trainers from IH London. The online training options are delivered by The Distance Delta, our online platform which was developed in partnership with the British Council. These courses are part-time and can go alongside your working in a school. You can choose all online, all face-to-face or a blended mode of study for the Delta.

FACE-TO-FACE MODULE 2

The face-to face Delta Module 2 is a full-time intensive course held in London. Attend live training on methodology with knowledgeable and inspirational trainers and get feedback on your planning and teaching. The Module 2 course brings together academic ricour and applied teaching pedagogy. You need the foundation of Module 1 to apply for the course.

Course length:	7 weeks
Course dates:	09 Jan – 24 Feb 2023 10 July – 25 Aug 2023
Cost:	£2,677 (+£158 Cambridge fees)

FACE-TO-FACE DELTA 123

The face-to-face Delta 123 is a full-time course for teachers who want to immerse themselves in their course and their studies. It covers materials for all three modules.

During your face-to-face course you will attend daily sessions on teaching methodology and techniques, illustrated with demonstrations and materials. You will be trained by expert IH London Delta trainers who will inspire and support you to develop your teaching. You can also watch our experienced teachers in their classrooms. In the afternoons there are teaching, reflection and feedback sessions.

Face-to-face Delta 123 is designed as an intensive course with assignment writing and lesson planning in the evenings and at weekends.

By the end of the course you will have completed Module 2, the largest Delta module. You will have studied for the Module 1 exam, which you can take in the following June or December. You will have all the information you need for the Module 3 assignment and you can submit a draft for feedback after the course. You can submit your module 3 assignment to Cambridge Assessment in June or December. This gives you flexibility to adjust the intensity of the course to match your needs.

Course length:	8 weeks
Course dates:	06 March – 28 April 2023 11 September – 03 November 2023
Cost:	£3,573 (+£374 Cambridge fees)

First class and very professional.
Rob, Delta

BLENDED DELTA 123

The Blended Delta offers the best of both, combining online modules with a face-to-face Module 2.

You have the flexibility to study for Modules 1 and 3 online with The Distance Delta, and you get the benefit of being part of our school in Covent Garden in London for the practical Module 2.

Taking Module 1 on our fully tutored online Delta course, developed in partnership with the British Council, means you can read and study in your own time and around your work and life commitments.

The studying you do for Module 1 will prepare you for a face-to-face Module 2 at IH London where you will get the opportunity to experience a focussed intensive course away from other distractions. We provide the students for you to teach in our multilingual classes and you will be tutored by excellent and inspiring trainers.

For Module 3 you return to an online course, which is a good way to have support through the stages of this extended assignment module. You can work closely with your tutor and study group.

Course length:	9 – 12 months
Start dates:	05 March 2023 03 September 2023
Cost:	£3,194 (+£374 Cambridge fee)

I really enjoyed it and found it very useful to look at teaching practice in a focused and practical way.

MODULE 2

This is the largest part of your Delta and it has the greatest impact on your professional career. It is where you create a portfolio of your best teaching and essays to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of English, of the learners, the materials and methodology.

Choose a face-to-face course if you want a focussed experience of daily interaction with expert tutors who can bring concepts to life, show you new ideas and share their experience with you. You can take Module 2 face-to-face on an intensive 7-week course at IH London.

Or choose Distance Delta Module 2 to study more extensively alongside work and be assessed teaching your own students.

It is best to take your Module 1 first to get the most from your course and help you prepare for the practical Module 2.
