INTEGRATED LEARNING (CLIL)

Learn to teach other subjects in English.

COURSE SUMMARY

English level:	B1 (intermediate) and above
Minimum age:	18
Course length:	2 weeks
Lessons:	30 (55 minutes each)
Course days:	Monday to Friday
Class times:	13:15–16:15
2021 dates:	05 July – 31 July
Cost:	£760

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

This course is for teachers who are teaching another subject, such as geography, history or sciences, and using English to teach the subject.

COURSE OUTLINE

The course takes a practical approach with discussions and demonstrations of materials. You will work with your tutor to produce a wide range of materials and activities that can be used as part of a CLIL curriculum.

Some subjects that may be covered are:

- › Exploring ways to allow learners more contact with the target language
- › Using a task-based learning approach to develop students' speaking skills
- › Developing awareness of and responding to different learning styles
- › Exploring different approaches to testing and assessment
- › Developing students' speaking, listening, reading and writing skills

Participants are asked to bring some teaching materials for their subject to use on the course. As CLIL is implemented differently around the world, it is a great opportunity to compare and contrast different experiences.

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

Take this course to:

- ✓ Develop an understanding of the key challenges and benefits of CLIL
- ✓ Consider methodology, teaching strategies and skills for use with CLIL
- ✓ Adapt materials for language learning in a CLIL subject
- ✓ Share ideas from the participants' classrooms and school context

CLIL course is also available online.

Pronunciation, Poetry and Performance from the author of Sound Foundations.

COURSE SUMMARY

English level:	B2
Minimum age:	21
Course length:	1 week
Lessons:	20
Course days:	Monday to Friday
Class times:	09:00–13:00
2021 dates:	05 July – 20 July
Cost:	£690

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

This programme is for teachers, trainers, materials writers, and anyone who wishes to speak from the heart with impact and clarity. The course is for speakers of English as an additional language (min B2), or as a first language.

COURSE OUTLINE

There are two parallel strands to this practical online programme:

1. Develop confidence in your own pronunciation of sounds, words and connected speech. Learn to sense what you do in your mouth so you can critique and change your pronunciation as little or as much as you wish, and learn techniques to help your learners do the same.
2. Develop your spoken performance skill through presentation and performance, maximising listener engagement through your voice tone, pause, energy distribution, timing, intonation, fluency, body language and ... speaking from the heart. Integrate pronunciation to bring language to life.

The course culminates with the production of our own Poetry Festival

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

On this course you will:

- ✓ Gain a thorough, practical insight into the physicality of pronunciation including words, stress, unstress, and connected speech
- ✓ Develop your personal expression and speaking from the heart in free speech and poetry.
- ✓ Develop confidence and presence in your spoken performance, for example whenever you talk to your class.
- ✓ Experience first-hand and practise new teaching techniques to help your learners bring their speech to life.
- ✓ Integrate pronunciation work completely into all class work and at all levels.

A principled approach to the evaluation and design of teaching materials

COURSE SUMMARY

English level:	C1
Minimum age:	18
Course length:	1 weeks
Lessons:	20
Course days:	Monday to Friday
Class times:	10:00–12:00 and 13:00–16:00
2021 dates:	12 July – 16 July
Cost:	£495

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

This course is for teachers who want to make great lesson materials for their students or to share with other teachers and the wider ELT community. Get ready to be creative.

COURSE OUTLINE

This is a very practical course. A lot of class time will be in the form of workshops where you will work with your fellow teachers to create, evaluate and adapt materials based on the needs of your students, and you will be asked to complete a number of practical activities during the course. Ultimately, we hope that you can use the materials you design in your future lessons and that you will be able to pass on what you have learnt to colleagues where you work.

The course also includes input from your tutors. During the week we will look at some of the key areas and issues in materials development, such as principles underpinning materials design, the role of coursebooks, findings from SLA research, the role of the local syllabus or curriculum, teacher agency and learner motivation. We will also explore how a teacher can move into materials development, from sharing with peers, presenting at conferences to getting your materials published.

We hope that you will use the time between sessions to do further work on materials development tasks that you have started in the workshop sessions. We also recommend that during the course you spend some time looking carefully at published materials as a source of ideas. We will bring materials to the sessions for evaluation, but this course will be more practical if you can bring materials from your own teaching context that we can explore. These can be published materials you use or ones you have designed yourself. Wherever possible you will be encouraged to relate ideas discussed in class to the context(s) you teach in.

WHAT WILL YOU ACHIEVE?

By the end of this course you will be able to:

- ✓ Assess and evaluate materials and understand what makes good teaching and learning materials
- ✓ Design materials around texts to develop receptive skills
- ✓ Design materials for developing productive skills
- ✓ Design material for teaching specific language items
- ✓ Evaluate the effectiveness of your own materials and adapt them to suit the needs of different learners
- ✓ Understand effective materials design and layout
- ✓ Write effective instructions
