General French & French for French Teachers (FG FPF) a : « Optimize ones classroom practice »

Units on French society:

A language fits completely into the society that carries it. Language of communication above all, it also serves to exchange about facts, phenomena, evolutions that crosses this society. The unit "French society" will allow you both to update your knowledge about the state of contemporary French society and the prospect of enrolling this knowledge in your French classes. Social facts, cultural facts, political facts and others will be addressed, dealt with through varied and updated support documents that can later find their place in your teaching practices.

Pedagogical units:

The language class is the place where our teaching skills are expressed. It is also a complex place where class activities, animation, pedagogy, didactic dimensions together hold a central place. The "pedagogical" units offer you the opportunity to benefit from the field experience of our teachers in this domain. But also to be able to share your own experience and class practices in a principle of exchange and sharing.

Different themes will be proposed: Use of authentic supports, evaluation practices, play activities, implementation of class projects are some possible examples.

Each module aims to be as interactive as possible in order to provide you with practical tools for the class and to exchange together on your practices and on your class experiences. The teachers who will facilitate these workshops will share their approaches and experiences of the language class in order to provide you with new ideas and energies at the service of your work as a teacher of French.
